

Speaker Coaching

When I won the 2021 World Championship of Public speaking, I knew that my success was a direct result of the coaching I received. Without guidance, my speeches would not have reached the level they did. That is why I am passionate about helping other speakers reach great heights too. I have been coaching speakers for events for 10 years and since becoming World Champion I have had a corporate client win an international industry contest and have several Toastmasters who are through to District Level of the 2022 contest. Choosing to be coached is an investment in yourself and in the results you are wanting achieve.

How It Works

I work in 1-hour sessions via Zoom where we work through your speech structure, your central message and your delivery. Before each session I review the latest recording and transcript of your speech so that we can get right into things. All sessions are recorded so that you can refer back to them.

What Coaching Isn't

Coaching isn't a guarantee that you will place in a contest, but it does guarantee that you will work to deliver your best possible speech. Coaching does not entail the coach writing your speech for you but rather guiding your thinking so that you can go away and put in the work.

What It Costs

Sessions cost $250 USD per hour or $699 for 3 sessions. Invoices are issued with a credit card link for ease of payment or can be purchased on my website.

I believe there are two things you need to shine in a contest. The right speech and the right mindset. My job as a coach is to help you get both!

Testimonials

Your coaching was fabulous - actually beyond my expectations for how helpful it was. You have a real gift Verity, I have learned an enormous amount in one hour... and not only about speech construction and delivery, but more about myself too. Annie Martin, Australia

My public speaking has changed from dull and insecure to vibrant and professional. I was taught how to keep an audience entertained and engaged even whilst relaying information which on its own would be boring. I was given skills which I will benefit from for the rest of my life, and through these skills I was able to win the Young International Freight Forwarder of the Year for 2021! Thank you for all your time and effort Verity, I am truly grateful to have worked with you.
Justin Goedhart, South Africa

Verity has been coaching me with levelling up in public speaking contests for a few months and it has been absolutely game-changing! Verity has supported me so powerfully, she has been willing to challenge me, help me see my inner authenticity and realness, and has enabled me to flourish with vulnerability.

This deep exploration and her absolute gold standard of understanding speech contests has enabled me to change and grow so much as a speaker in such a small time frame. Jody Dontje, Australia

There are three things to aim at in public speaking: first, to get into the heart of your subject, then to get your subject into your heart, and lastly, to get your subject into the heart of your audience.
